LITTLE BIT
...on most anything

Good sense tells us to eliminate "on the other hand" when we write this week's column about the school tax override election next Tuesday.

We should attempt only to persuade you to vote for the override . . . because it is necessary, because your kids and ours probably wouldn't get the best education possible during the next five years if it fails.

That should be reason enough for anyone to part with a fin or so every month — a little over $1 a week for most —for a better chance for their children.

Unfortunately for brevity's and clarity's sakes, there are a couple of unrelated reasons why we just can't bring ourselves to end this piece right here.

We believe the major reason you should vote for the override is to put our Monterey Peninsula Unified School District on the spot.

It was ably stated by a black friend. In effect, he said:

The only reason I'm going to support this override is so they'll have the money to start improving the quality of education in this district, to start providing some classes that are more relevant to black and disadvantaged students in the district, to develop a meaningful counseling program that will guide lost students toward some hopeful career. And so on . . .

He reasons that if the override fails, then the district will have a ready excuse why some of these programs aren't being developed. If it passes, he reasons the district will have no excuses.

Our other main reason for supporting the override is a familiar one:

If the override is so absolutely necessary right now, then it should have been sought one, two, three years ago.

We realize that's criticism of an unfair sort. Projections of enrollment, dependence on state and federal dilly-dallying, inflation and what-have-you make school finance a morass.

Nevertheless, the lesson ought to be learned. It is to the district's credit that officials are looking five years into the future. We hope they're looking far enough.

On the other hand . . . CML

Cruz

Battle

Cruz, Battle Vie For Council

Epifanio — Pete to everyone because he has only one given name and that's next to impossible to pronounce — Cruz took out his nominating papers for the city council last week.

And Ed Battle — whose surname is synonymous with his character — did likewise this week.

They're the two latest entrants into the city election arena. Seaside residents will vote for two councilmen and a mayor April 14.

Cruz is 46 and an electronic technician at Ft. Ord, a job he's held for three years. For 20 years before that he was in the U.S. Army, serfing in World War II, in Korea and Vietnam. He retired a master sergeant.

Cruz is currently a member of the planning commission, and is its immediate past-chairman. He also serves on the area planning commission as chairman and is head of the Monterey County Planning Council.

Cruz and his wife, Caroline, have a son and three daughters — son Tony 26; Dolly 23, Rocky 15, and Gemma 13. The girls and their monther have been active in Girl Scouts and Cruz is a committee member of the Oakside Neighborhood. Cruz's live at 1845 Eucalyptus and have since they moved to Seaside in 1957.

Battle, 31, was elected just two weeks ago as president of the Monterey Peninsula Anti-Poverty Coucnil. He owns Battle's Furniture and Appliance store at 656 Broadway. Battle entered business in Seaside in 1964 after serving 12 years in the Army and Navy. He was discharged a staff sergeant.

Battle and his wife, Annie, live at. 7 Mercedes Ct., and have three sons, Ed Jr. 6, Lloyd 3 and Michael, 9 months.

Cruz said he entered the race because he wants to help maintain the "progressive direction of the city." He said the field seems wide open since Mayor Lou Haddad hasn't made his candidacy clear. Haddad has said he won't run again, but admits to pressure to seek re-election. Cruz said he didn't know whether he would quit the race if Haddad seeks re-election.

Battle has been at war with the council several times in recent years. He has been openly hostile to the co-called city establishment. CML

SCHOOL TAX VOTE TUESDAY

Volunteers canvassed Seaside this week in an effort to sell a $1 tax override to voters. The Monterey Peninsula Unified School District election will be next Tuesday, Feb. 17.

Plaged with uncertain federal funding because of President Nixon's veto of the Health, Education and Welfare bill, the district has enlisted the aid of citizens and parents groups to plead its case door-to-door. Even with a restoration of some of the funds , the district could lost from $90,000 to nearly $900,000 in federal funds, probably about $400,000, school officials say.

But even without the federal funding problems, district officials say the $1 is necessary just to meet operational expenses in the next five years, the length of the override. According to a financial study by a citizens committee that worked on the problem all summer, the district would need some 32 cents in the 1970-71 year, ranging up to more than $1.70 by 1974-75. The committee recommended the averageing to $1 per year for an indefinite period. The school board set a limit of five.

School officials contend that the district week. the average district has three to four that amount in reserve.

Critics of the override have sought to build opposition through the controversial issues of cross-busing to desegregate some 15 schools in the district and of the family life and sex education program. They sought unsuccessfully to get the board to promise that override funds would not be used for either.

School officials point out there is no program for cross-busing and that no moneys are intended to implement it. They note, however, that if the federal courts file suit against the district to desegrate the schools they will have to find an answer. The officials also contend that a majority of parents favor family life and sex education classes.

The $1 override would cost the owner of a $20,000 home $50 a year, or some $4 a month increase in his house payment.

The $1 would increase district revenues by some $1.2 million in 1970-71 to a total of about $15 million. By 1974-75 the district's annual budget is estimated to become nearly $20 million.

OK NEW POST OFFICE

Seaside will bet a new post office sometime in the next 18 months, according to Rep. Burt Talcott, 12th district congressman.

But Seaside Postmaster Earle Flaws isn't holding his breath waiting for it.

The announcement of the new facility was made by Mayor Lou Haddad at last week's city council meeting. He said the post office would negotiate for a lease arrangement with a landlord to construct a 12,000 square foot building. There would be some 28,000 square feet for parking, making a total requirement of nearly an acre.

Flaws says the current post office of a little more than 5,000 square feet is plenty spacious for present and needs of the foreseeable future. Furthermore, he says, at full population capacity, Seaside will only require four more carrier routes.

Flaws also argues that when urban renewal and the city complete the blacktopping and re-engineer the curbing on the north side of the present building, there will be plenty of parking for patrons and post office vehicles.

The postmaster says city officials never contacted him about space requirements.

The post office became nonconforming in the Gateway Auto Center, and the planning commission has extended a use permit for 90 days.

City officials have been pressing for a new facility for several years. They hope the Ft. Ord post facility can be merged into the Seaside branch. The Ft. Ord facility is currently a substation of the Monterey post office and has been that way for many years. Flaws notes that both Salinas and Seaside have attempted to gain the Ft. Ord facility as a substation without success.

Locations mentioned by Haddad for possible sites were the building formerly housing Sir Discount at Ord Grove and Fremont, a parcel directly north across Echo from Mayfair Market, and the corner of Terrace and Braodway.

Haddad said Thursday he had put up for sale two parcels of property he owns because of

Session Error

The Seaside Planning Commission will meet tonight (Wednesday, Feb. 11) at 8 o'clock. The meeting wasn't held last Wednesday as incorrectly reported in last week's News-Sentinel.

Nine applications for use permits are included on the agenda including one by Bruce Newburg for a servicemen's coffee shop and gathering place at 1540 Del Monte.

7 City Hopefuls

The ranks of the hopefuls swelled to seven this week for the elction of a mayor and two city councilmen A[illegible]14.

Filing deadline is ne[illegible]rsday, Feb. 19, at noon at city hall.

Joining the races officially since last week were Councilman Bud Houser, Planning Commissioner Pete Cruz and furniture store owner Ed Battle. Houser had announced his intention to run earlier, but Cruz and Battle declared with the taking out of their nominating papers.

Houser took papers for both the mayor's race and for council. He has said he'll run for mayor if Mayor Lou Haddad sticks to his word and doesn't seek re-election. Otherwise Houser will seek to retain his council seat.

Already in the mayor's race are Steve Ross and Richard Hamilton.

Cruz and Battle are running for council seats. In the race so far are incumbent Emil Schmidt and Henry Burney.

Unheard from as yet is Councilman Oliver Murray who says he'll make an announcement Thursday.

Also rumored to be ready to declare her candidacy is Pearl Carey, who ran third for council two years ago.

Bike Rodeo Saturday

Elementary school boys will have a chance to compete for the Cyclist of the Year trophy Saturday in a bicycle rodeo.

The rodeo, sonsored by the Seaside fFire and Police Dearptments and the Boys' Club of the Monterey Peninsula, will begin at 10 a.m. at the city hall parking lot.

Other prizes and trophies will be awarded, and competition will be separated into age groups. Entrants will also get a lunch.

'For Sale' No Sale

If you want to try to squeeze a few extra bucks out of the old second car by selling it yourself, don't put a 'For Sale' sign in the window when you park it on the street. It's against the law.

Mayor Lou Haddad appealed for help in making Seaside residents aware of a three-year-old ordinance that prohibits parking cars for sale on the street.

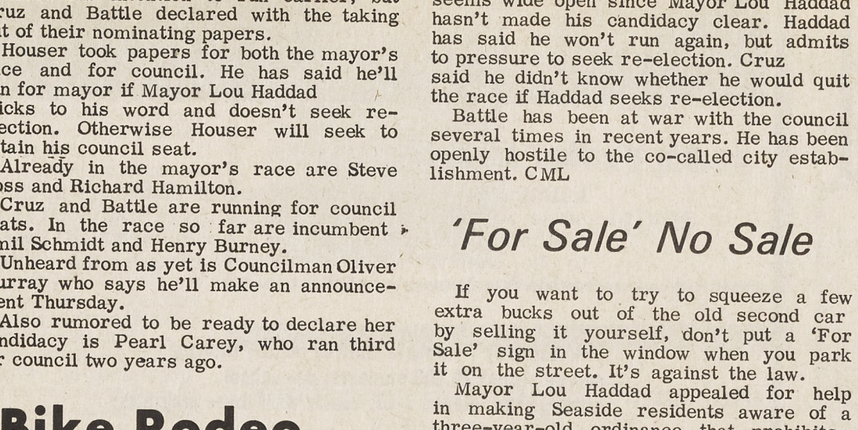

The mayor complained of having at least one angry ticketed violator confront him with:

"Don't the cops have anything better to do."

Haddad asked Police Chief Bennie Cooper if patrolmen couldn't issue warnings, to which, Cooper replied:

"The paper work would kill us." He explained that a violator could get a dozen or more warnings without ever receiving a citation.

Cooper said the ordinance was passed to eliminate the sale of merchandise on public streets.

Abandoned Car Woes

Police Chief Bennie Cooper warned city councilmen last week that the city may have to begin making property owners responsible for having junked cars hauled to the wrecking yards.

Cooper said the police department is losing its battle of keeping abandoned cars cleared from city streets.

And he said the problem is being compounded now by the fact taht the wrecking yard operator in Prunedale who has been hauling off the cars from the junk value is now charging $10. Cooper explained that recently more totally stripped cars are being left in vacant lots and on the streets. The result is that the wrecker can't even break even on the scrap value, Cooper said.

"You mean he's hauled off all the ones of any value, and only the duds are left?" asked Mayor Lou Haddad.

Cooper said the city has to haul off cars at a rate of about 500 a year, and at $10 a car, that would cost $5,000, which he said the city can't afford. Councilmen agreed.

Councilmen said they had proposed a solution to the problem two years ago, but that the will never got through the state legislature. It would have placed a $50 charge on the junking of any vehicle; the net effect would have been that the last registered owner of any junked car would have to come up with the $50 before he could register another car in California.

Cooper pointed out that the major objection to that plan was that most of Seaside's abandoned cars are left by servicemen who are sent overseast from Ft. Ord and who more often than not never own another car in California.

The council took no action, but suggested that Assemblyman Bob Wood be asked to reintroduce their legislation.

YOUR HELP IS NEEDED NOW TO PREVENT CUTS IN EDUCATION

VOTE YES

Tuesday Feb. 17 School Tax Election

Why We Must Act Now

Inflation has driven the costs of education up the same way it has increased the cost of your food and clothing. Without additional income there will have to be cuts in vital educational programs. This would touch every child.

The Monterey Peninsula Unified School District serves almost 20,000 students: pre-school, kindergarten, grades 1-12, adults with these programs:

- *training in the basic skills of reading, writing and arithmetic
- *counseling and guidance services
- *help for poor readers
- *classes for the handicapped
- *programs for the disadvantaged
- *challenging programs for fast learners
- *occupational and vocational training
- *programs for dropouts
- *physical and emotional health services
- *student activities, athletics
- *day and night classes for adults

STUDENTS are provided transportation when. . .

- *beyond state recommended walking distances from school,
- *enrolled in special education programs for visually handicapped, mentally retarded, educationally handicapped, and for
- *educational field trips and activities.
- *The district does not cross-bus to effect ethnic balance.

The Cost To You

If your house is worth $15,000 today and is assessed at $3,750 for tax purposes, you would pay an additional 10¢ a day or $3.12 a month.

What The Increase Will Do..

1. Continue existing educational programs
2. Build an emergency reserve fund to keep schools open if state or federal aid were curtailed. Present reserves equal the costs to operate all existing school programs for less than one week. It will not build buildings or buy land.

Why Your Help Is Important

If every concerned citizen takes the few minutes necessary to vote, this vital measure will pass.

Women's Health

"BEST" HOURS FOR SHOE-BUYING

If you need new shoes, hold off buying them until the end of the day when you're footsore and weary, recommends a professor of physical medicine at the University of Southern California School of Medicine.

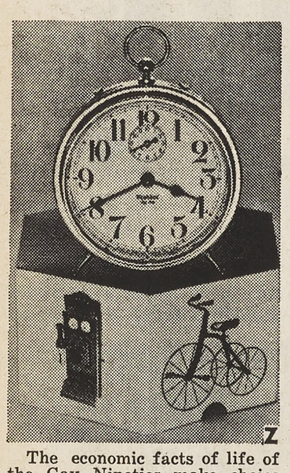

The method behind this heartless advice, Dr. Rene Cailliet says, is that tired feet are also relaxed, sensitive and slightly broadened by the day's wear and tear. New shoes that feel comfortable under these conditions are almost certain to continue to feel comfortable.

However, the physician is highly skeptical about the fit of all women's shoes that are also acceptable stylistically. Describing the "good standard shoe" as having a reasonably low, broad heel, narrow waist and straight inner border, Dr. Cailliet says these seem to be limited to men's and children's shoe lines.

But men, women and children can all follow the doctor's prescription for socks: one-half inch longer than the longest toe, and changed daily.

COLLECTOR'S ITEMS

One of the most popular periods of American history for modern collectors of memorabilia is the Gay Nineties—from 1890 to 1910. One publisher discovered this when he reprinted the 1897 Sears, Roebuck catalog and it became a best seller, now in its sixth printing.

The economic facts of life of the Gay Nineties make choice collector's items themselves: A dozen eggs cost 21¢, lamb was 16¢ a pound, a family could hire a cook and housekeeper for $10 a month and sewing machines cost a staggering sum of $12.

* * *

Do you know that one of the most prized collections of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City is the Burdick Collection? It consists mostly of chewing gum cards, picture post cards, paper dolls and Valentines, yet to museum officials it gives more insight into American life at the time than can be gained from a dozen history books.

Cinderella Hamburger Turns Into A Princess Duxelle

Beefburger on top of beefburger filled with an onion-mushroom mixture turns a hamburger into a duxelle. Topped with artichoke heart and Bearnaise Sauce, California chuck beef—well bred and inexpensive—makes elegant fare for guests at lunch or supper—they'll like Cinderella-turned-princess.

Duxelle Beefburgers Bearnaise

- 1½ cups chopped fresh mushrooms
- ¼ cup chopped green onion
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
- 1¾ teaspoons salt
- 1½ pounds ground California beef chuck
- 1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 2 tablespoon water
- 4 thick slices French bread, toasted and buttered
- 1 8-oz. pkg. frozen artichoke hearts, cooked

Bearnaise Sauce

Saute mushrooms and onion in butter in skillet until done. Add ¼ teaspoon salt; cool. Mix ground chuck, remaining salt, pepper, MSG and water in bowl. Divide mixture into 8 portions; shape oval patties to fit bread slices. Top half of patties with mushroom mixture. Cover each with a remaining patty; press edges together. Brown both sides of patties slowly in skillet to desired doneness. Place on toasted bread; garnish with artichoke hearts and top with Bearnaise Sauce. Yield: 4 servings.

Bearnaise Sauce: Combine ¼ cup white table wine, 2 tablespoons white tarragon wine vinegar, 1 tablespoon chopped green onion and ½ teaspoon dried tarragon. Simmer to reduce to 2 tablespoons. Place in blender jar and cool slightly. Add 3 egg yolks; blend a few seconds. Heat ½ cup butter in small thick pan without browning. Slowly add melted butter to vinegar mixture, blending at high speed until smooth. Scrape jar and blend two seconds. Stir 1 tablespoon chopped parsley into sauce. Yield: about ¾ cup sauce.

BOB WOOD REPORTS

A Weekly Column By The 34th District Assemblyman

Lying in a hospital bed in Mee Memorial Hospital in King City is a poor location to report to the people in Monterey County what is going on in the Capitol building in Sacramento, but these are the circumstances I find myself in this 6th day of February.

Somewhere along the line I picked up a small pneumonia bug. I have been in the hospital for almost a week now and I doubt if, by this late date, that same poor bug has much of a chance of survival. The highly trained staff assigned to get my old chassis going again has pretty well covered all of the areas where any respectable bug might decide to take up housekeeping, either inside or out.

I am so full of pills I am afraid it would be quite a problem for even an under-sized bug to find elbow room. Under these conditions, I should be back on the firing line in Sacramento by the time you receive this report.

Several months ago I attempted to explain that various committees held hearings during the Fall months and data was collected for future reference. Today I want to take this opportunity to report to you some of the recommendations of the Subcommittee on Air Pollution after listening to nearly 700 pages of testimony by over 50 witnesses. The mose expensive recommendation by the Subcommittee is a proposal to get the lead out of gasoline. Lead is a poison in itself. They estimate that it would cost one cent on the price of a gallon of gasoline to eliminate lead totally by January 1974. The proponents argue that the 10 or 12 dollars this would cost the average consumer yearly would be willingly borne by the public.

Another recommendation is to ask the Air Resources Board to adopt today the emissions standards recommended for 1975. Another recommendation would require th Air Resources Board to set automobile producers to test emissions of private vehicles which have operted for 6;000 miles rather than merely test manufacturer certification fleets fresh off the production line. Another recommendation would give the Air Resources Board the power to revise its test procedures, provided the new standards shall not be less stringent than those already set. Another would direct the Air Resources Board to study needs of controlling exhaust emissions from certain cars and trucks currently exempted.

Three of the measures would enlarge the legal rights against smog by industrial plants providing a maximum civil penalty of 6,000 dollars a day for polluters of the air. Such a fine is already in existence for water pollution.

I want to take this opportunity to thank the many people throughout Monterey County who took the time to send cards and flowers during my short stay in the hospital.

Enough for now...

WHO CARES By M. J. Vercoe

Mr. Mel Vercoe
Seaside News Sentinel
Seaside, California

Dear Mr. Vercoe:

The survival of Israel is in jeopardy. Apparently bowing to Soviet and Arab pressure, the Nixon administration's peace plan for the Near Ease requires Israel to withdraw from the occupied territories without receiving any guarantees in return for her security, and also readmit thousands of hostile Arab refugee. Either action would mean the destruction of Israel as a viable state. As an American, I am concerned because Israel is the only democratic state in the Near East and the only reliable friend that the democratic nations have in that part of the world. As a Jew, I am concerned because Israel has provided a haven for hundreds of thousands of Jewish refugees who had no other place to go.

Israel is a very small nation and Jews are a very small part of the world's population. We need support of all men of good will.

You can help by contacting President Nixon, Senators Cranston and Murphy, and Congressman Talcott and urging them to support Israel. Your help is needed now.

I believe that you will help Israel if you are fully aware of her background, her accomplishments, and her efforts to achieve a just and lasting peace with her Arab neighbors. Accordingly, I am taking the liberty of sending you some relevant literature on the subject.

Please take the time to read it, and when finished, pass it along to a friend. If you have any qyestions, do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely yours,
Morris Showel
232 Mar Vista Dr.
Monterey, California 93940

Mr. Showel enclosed an article by Dr. James Sheldon, a foreign correspondent and columnist for the American Examiner, also an analysis of the U.S. Mideast Peace Plan, printed by the Embassy of Israel in Wash., D.C.

According to Dr. Sheldon: A solution t the refugee question is vital to the overall political settlement. A half million displaced Arabs who were refused resettlement help from the Arab nations have been, since 1949, supported by the U.S. at a cost of 600 million dollars, 70 percent of which was furnished by the U.S. Through population increase by natural and nefarious means the refugees now total almost one and a half million. Russia does not share in supporting the refugees.

Excerpts from the Peace Plan Analysis: The U.S. plan calls for Israel to withdraw back to the June 5, 1967, armistice lines, depriving Israel of vital buffer zones. Israel would be required to accept into its blood stream the hostile Arab refugees. This could eventually destroy Israel. Israel and Jordan would jointly control Jerusalem, which would be unworkable, since Jordan twice, in 1948 and 1967, unleashed unprovoked war against Jerusalem, destroying synagogues, etcetera. The plan would be formulated by the U.S., Russia, France and Britian, three of whom are not friendly to Israel. According to Prime Minister Golda Meir, "Israel won't accept this plan. We didn't survive three wars in order to commit suicide so that the Russians can celebrate victory for Nasser..."

It is not surprising to this observer that America should enlist the collusion of such questionable help as Russia, Britain and France in trying to prolong a profitable stalemate in the Middle East, considering our almost complete lack of noticeable intelligence in foreign dealings in many years.

The Arab-Israeli dispute is of vital interest to much of the world. For Israel it means survival or non-survival. For the U.S it means, first, a continued good business in arms, and second, a chance to hold off complete domination by Russia in the Middle East for many more years.

For the Arabs, the dispute gives them something to do while the Soviets use them as pawns to drain the resources of Israel and the United States. Britain and France and other arms supplier to both litigants gain economically as long as the dispute can be kept alive.

For Israel, the future is not bright. It would indeed be suicide to give up the territory they have gained. Israel faces a hostile world that is less interested in its survival than in the political and economic profit that onlookers may gain from its struggle. In the long run, after America's power has succumbed to greed and stupidity, and after Russia has destroyed the Chinese threat, Israel will stand quite alone in their part of the world as Russia begins the takeover of all of Asia and Europe.

M.J. Vercoe

Your Social Security

Q. I understand earnings of relatives who work for me in my home do not have to be reported for Social Security purposes. Is this correct?

A. It is partly correct. You report the earnings of all relatives who perform domestic work in your home except your mother or father, your wife or husband, and children under 21. Under special circumstances you should report the earnings of your mother or father if you have a young child wno needs care and you have no wife or husband able to help. The people at your Social Security office will be glad to give you more information about this provision. Of course, you report the earnings of domestic employees only if cash wages amount to $50 or more in a calendar quarter.

Q. I am almost 65 and have been receiving disability benefits for severalyears. Will I be eligible for retirement benefits as well as my disability payments when I become 65?

A. You can receive only one payment. If your disability continues to 65, your payments will be converted to retirement benefits and will continue to be paid to you in the same amount.

Q. I have a 17-year-old son receiving benefits. If he takes a part-time job, is the earnings limit the same for him as for me?

A. Yes, A child beneficiary who works is permitted to earn up to $1680 a year without affecting payment of his benefits.

Q. My husband says he will soon be hiring an employee and wants to know what the procedure is to report wages for Social Security purposes.

A. The Internal Revenue Service receives the quarterly reports of employee wages and the Social Security taxes due on those wages. A new business must apply to the Internal Revenue Service for an employer identification number to use in making their reports. Application forms are available at Internal Revenue Service offices and Social Security offices.

Q. I got a letter this morning from California Blue Shield saying my Medicare claim had been sent to the Travelers Insurance Company to be processed and to send all future claims and correspondence to them. I am confused. I filed my 1490 form like all my friends did and I was the only one to receove a letter like this.

A. Undoubtedly you are a railroad retireee or the spouce of a railroad man and your friends are not. California Blue Shield is advised of this when your eligibility is verified with the Social Security Administration. Since Travelers is the designated carrier to process all Railroad Retirement claims in California, you would submit your 1490 and bills to their nearest office. Check your phone book for that information or contact one of their two main offices in California.

(Mail your questions to Social Security, c/o the Seaside News-Sentinel, or phone Social Security office 373-3351.

Refunds Possible

California wage earners who may be entitled to refunds of 1969 dis-ability insurance premium overpayments must file such refund claims by June 30.

Persons who worked for two or more employers during the year may have had too much deducted because each employer, as required by law, made a withholding for disability insurance. If the wage earner's total deduction for this purpose exceeded $74 for the year, he is entitled to a refund of the excess from the state.

Refunds are not automatic. Calim form, DE 1964, may be obtained at any department of Human Resources Development (formerly Employment) Office.

1040 U.S. Individual ... Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q) If IRS has mailed you estimated tax forms, does that mean you are required to file one of these forms?

A) You do not have to file an estimated tax declaration for 1970 unless you meet the requirements as explained in the instructions that came with the estimated forms.

Estimated tax forms have been sent to every taxpayer who filed an estimated return for 1969 as well as to those taxpayers who may have been liable for one because they had a balance due of $40 or more when they filed their 1968 return. The forms are identified with the taxpayer's name, address and Social Security number just as they appear in IRS files.

Read the instructions carefully and if you are required to file an estimated tax declaration, be sure to use the forms sent you. It will assure that your estimated tax payments are properly credited to your account.

Q) I just sent in my tax return. What records should I keep?

A) Keep the records you need to substantiate the income and deductions reported on your return. Cancelled checks, paid bills, Forms W-2 (Wage and Tax Statement) and 1099 (U.S. Information Return for Calendar Year), bank books and similar records in addition to a copy of the return, will be helpful.

Q) Will the amount my daughter receives from a college scholarship affect my dependency claim for her?

A) No, amounts received from a scholarship for study at an educational institution do not have to be included in total support in determining whether the support test for dependents has been met.

Q) My wife and I both received 1040 tax form packages in the mail because we were single in 1968. We want to file a joint return for 1969. Should we put both name labels on the return we file?

A) No, use only your label since on joint returns the account is primarily identified by the husband's Social Security number. You should insert your wife's first name and middle initial on your label and her Social Security number in the space provided on the return.

To make sure you are properly credited for all withheld taxes and estimated tax payments, if any, enter the name your wife used when she filed her 1968 return on the line under the address section of the form. Changes in address should be given here, too.

Q) I still haven't received my W-2. What should I do?

A) Ask your employer about your W-2 statement. By law, employers are required to provide withholding statements to their employees by the end of January. Since January 31 is a Saturday, the deadline is February 2, this year.

Q) Does the fact that a child is adopted make any difference for dependency purposes?

A) A legally adopted child is considered your child in applying the dependency tests.

Q) Last year I sent in my return and W-2 and you figured my tax for me. Will you still do this with the new form?

A) Yes, IRS will compute the tax just as it has in the past if your income is under $5,000 and consists of wages subject to withholding and not more than $200 of dividends, interest, and nonwithheld wages. This is explained on the back of the Form 1040 you received in the mail.

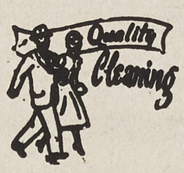

Q) Our community just put in some new sidewalks and assessed the property owners for the cost. Is this a deductible expense?

A) No, assessments for benefits that tend to increase the value of property are not generally allowed as deductions. You may, however, add the amount of your assessment to the cost basis of your property.

Have you ordered one of the refunding publications that we discussed here last week as yet? If not, think about sending for Money Tree (Box 232RE, Manchester, Mo. 63011) at least. Just reading one issue of that will convince you, in all probability of the value of refunding. Remember that this is not to be purchased monthly, as it is repetitive. If your budget will not allow subscriving to one of the monthly publications immediately, go ahead and send for some of the refunds in Money Tree. When that money comes in, reinvest it by subscribing to one of the monthly refund publications. The addresses were listed in last week's columns along with complete descriptions of the good features of each one.

Maybe you have already found yourself hesitating before throwing away empty cans and boxes. Have you, perhaps, even started removing the labels and boxtops, not knowing which ones to save and which to discard?

Last week, I listed many of the companies who launch refunding campaigns almost continuously. A copy of last week's paper can be obtained at the newspaper office if you missed that issue.

Let's go over, first, what parts of labels and packages to save -- and then I'll describe to you a good way to file them without going out to buy a filing cabinet.

First, there are cans -- cans of almost anything. I save the entire label, using one of those little, two-pronged, corn-on the-cob skewer holders to rip an opening right along where the label is glued. I do this before the can is opened to keep it clean. I always save the labels of the brands mentioned last week as well as a few "sleepers" which are good for combination offers (where, for instance, a certain brand of cake mix boxtop is requested for the refund, along with any brand of fruit label.)

Next, I think of saving all plastic lids from ground coffee, cutting off the rim so that only a flat disc is left. Save the waxed paper innerseal, also, from all instant coffees and teas. The brands that have offered refunds during the last few months, ranging from 35¢ to $1.00 for one proof-of-purchase, are Maxim, Maxwell House, Freeze-dried and regular Sanka, Yuban, Folger's, Hills Bros., Butter-Nut, and Kava.

Save both the labels and the carboard liner from the inside of the metal cap (write the brand name on it when you remove it) from Log Cabin, Karo, and Vermont Maid pancake syrup -- as these are always "money in the bank." You might also save some of another brand you use -- again, for combination offers-- or just in case that company gets on the refund band-wagon.

Save, according to how much storage space you wish to devote to this money-making venture, either the whole box (flattened;) the front, back and end flaps; or just the tront and top or end flap from any Jell-O product--gelatin, puddings, pie mixes, etc. Save also those from My-T-Fine and Royal.

On frozen foods, also, you will have to decide how much room to devote this, and save either the fronts only (Birdseye usually asks just for the fronts--their latest offer being 8 fronts from their 5-minute vegetables for $1 or 5 fronts from their vegetable combinations for $1 -- or up to the entire frozen food package, flattened. Of course, wash the inside of it first, if the food was not in a plastic pouch.

Save the front and back labels of salad oils (especially Mazola and Wesson), dishwashing liquids (Ivory, Lux Palmolive, Dove, etc.,)

Save the whole envelope, if you can, or just the front, from all dry mixes -- (Lawry's, Frenches, etc.)

Save the whole wrapper from soap (Camay recently gave away a bath scale for 25 labels and no money --Dail recently gave $1 for 5 labels.)

Save the boxtop, front and bottom of detergent boxes, if you can. If not, save the top and the "net st." mark and the "giant or king size" mark. (Ajax just gave $1 for 3 tops.)

In the drug field, save the flattened carteons from Crest, Colgate Vote, and Gleem tooth paste, at least. Save the cartons from Head-'n' Shoulders and Prell shampoo (the cardboard cap liner from Liquid Prell). Save as much of the carton or label as you can from Helene Curtis and Clairol products.

Other continuously good refund labels and boxes are Vitalis, Bromo-Seltzer, Effer-Dent, Anacin. By next week, I'll probably think of some more.

It looks as though we will have to discuss the practical way to file these treasures next week. Can you hold on until then? I hope you have a spare drawer available. Meanwhile, save your grocery sacks. Those are the raw materials for the filing system I am going to describe to you. You might also get a box from the grocery store (sith the top cut off) that is about the width of a folded brocery sack. Until then, keep those labels and boxtops comin'in."

THE PHONE BOOTH

Just a year ago Valentine's Day one of our telephone people was married in Tokyo—and her relatives in the U. S. heard the ceremony, thanks to the telephone. Kay Reasbeck and her Air Force sweetheart decided not to wait for his return from Vietnam to get married. So she met him when he was on leave in Tokyo, and a Long Distance call was arranged to the bride's home in California where family and friends were gathered. The ceremony—broadcast via telephone circuit—was amplified to the happy group with one of our speakerphones. Love, it seems, with the help of the telephone, finds a way around everything!

APRIL 9

I'd like to remind you that April 9 is the deadline for registering to vote in California's Primary Election. If you'll be 21 years old by election day—June 2—or are new to your community, you must register to be eligible to vote. A new law makes it unnecessary for voters who've moved within their own county to re-register. Such voters can now notify the County Clerk or Registrar of Voters by mail of their address change. Appropriate forms will be provided by the County Clerk. They'll also be available at many of our main public telephone offices where Pacific Telephone will again be providing voter registration facilities.

The Question Box

Q Why is "Information" now called "Directory Assistance?"

A "Directory Assistance" is a better description of the service we provide: helping you find a number that is not in your phone book. You'll find most local numbers in your directory. But if there's one you can't find, "Directory Assistance" is there to help you.
